Positive Feedback → “Goodbye ... I Wish You Well”

“The emotion in this poem is so tangible. I felt every word.”

“Well written and paced.”

“You wonderfully captured the lost love between a couple who weren't quite right for each other.”

“This really captured so much emotion. It has incredible rhythm and rhyme.”

“Things don't always work, you captured such a positive view!”

“Oh, whoa ... this was lyrical. I was left dizzy by your third stanza and crushed by your fourth - what a ride.”

“Beautiful!”

“Tender and bittersweet. Very heartfelt.”

“Bittersweet. I liked it.”

“Flawless. I enjoyed every line.”

“Lovely words of tenderness and yearning.”

“Sometimes love forces your hand. It would be easier to part if you didn't care so much. I really liked this one.”

“Ah, yes, when the chemistry is right but that's the only thing that is. Running away from facing that truth. I'm totally with you in that experience. Thank you so much for letting us into your world and that painful part, too.”

“‘Now, wondrously, I wish you well,’ is such the right sentiment for a relationship past. Beautifully written.”

“Just beautiful. I love the way that even the title rhymes with your name.”

“Pretty powerful. Well done.”

“Cute and sincere.”

“Well done.”

“Heartfelt and sincere. Very touching. Well done.”

“Very nice. A loss is sometimes painful. Here, you remember it with a touching poem.”

“Lovely rhyming couplets. Very nice.”

“A loss remembered ... Poignant.”

“So beautiful!”

“A Valentine memory of a love lost, rich and aching; beautifully written.”

“You worked hard on getting the rhyme and rhythm right, and it shows. And the short, punchy lines drive home the emotion. A wonderfully adept balancing act! Well done.”

“Heartache is one of the worst aches of all. Well done!”

“Damn, did that hit hard. Beautifully written.”

“Touching and poignant.”

“Beautiful poem.”

“This is outstanding!”

“A poignant and lovely poem.”

“A lovely poem of remembrance and growth.”

“Valentine to a love lost. A beautiful concept. So well expressed.”

“Your words describe perfectly the pain and memory of a love lost kept forever in memories ... excellent poem.”

“That's a very lovely poem. A special memory of loves lost on a special day.”

Positive Feedback → “Pass The Hat”

“An easy, flowing read thanks to your use of language. [The protagonist] sounds like the sort of person all the good girls should [harbor] beneath! Great writing; thanks for sharing.”

“Excellent fun story, hot and debauched, but also a lovely journey of self discovery. Tremendous language, fabulous writing and the ending was brilliant.”

“Very fun story. I liked the differing aesthetics of each character, the awkward building up and the rather unique way [the protagonist] broke the ice. Plus I loved how much giggling during the sex there was!”

“You have such a unique cadence to your writing: free-flowing and whimsical, but tight and structured. I liked the conflicting personalities of [the protagonist] (and loved that [one of the personalities] won out in the end!).”

“I enjoyed it very much! [The protagonist] sounds delicious!”

“Like a wildly lewd adjusted version of Dr. Jekyll and Mrs. Hyde, only this time the kinkiest wins. That's the kind of happy ending I like. ... Thank you!”

“Very fun story to read ... .”

“Well-written and thoroughly debauched ... .”

“This is very imaginative ... . Nicely done ... .”

“This was cleverly done. ... .”

“A great story about a lady with a suppressed, yet insatiable hunger for debauchery. ... Made me laugh. ... .”

Positive Feedback → “Odyssey For The Unbroken One”

“This was amazing ... . I loved the metaphor of the broken filly. It’s a world I know very little about but your writing transported me there.”

“I can’t believe I almost missed this one. This is gorgeous and really well crafted.”

“Gorgeously constructed; loved the imagery and pace of this delightful discovery of her sexuality and finding her way out. So like how you intergrated [color] and the breaking to death of the filly. Beautiful writing.”

“Extremely well written. This should resonate with a lot of people. Nicely done.”

“Excellent work and so well written.”

“Very well written. I especially enjoyed the name choices which both fit the setting and had a certain musicality to them. ... This was a very well told story. Nicely done ... .”

“Engrossing and fulfilling in its completion. I was swimming upstream until I saw Rumspringa then it all fell into place. Such a happy tale in so many ways.”

“This is extremely well written!”

“Love your story and love the way she was able to free herself and find her true self. Great writing ... .”

“Your style of writing is so polished I had to remind myself I wasn’t reading a novel. Really impressive. As a horse owner, I loved the metaphor you used to depict her unbridled spirit.”

“That was really beautiful.”

“I love the setting outside [of] most everyday environments.”

“I utterly adore this piece. The metaphors of the horse and of Pride particularly struck me — so skillful. And the way you subtly interweave the rainbow theme throughout was wonderful. A story about someone whose life I can’t relate to, and yet you helped me see it through her eyes and understand her journey. An impressive story ... .”

“Love the comparison to the broken filly. Love [that the protagonist] broke free and lived her ‘true’ life.”

“Great story. Love the ending.”

“[A] lovely story nicely told.”

“Your writing really transported [the protagonist’s] emotions.”
